

Transforming the Recruitment Experience With a People-Powered Approach

Turnover is a major challenge for many recruitment firms. In 2020, U.S. recruiters were 115% more likely to look for a new job than the average worker.¹

Fact: Great careers only feel rewarding in great workplaces. Retention starts with culture.

HERE'S HOW CONCERO IS CHANGING THE GAME.

¹ www.cnbc.com/2020/02/14/workers-in-these-5-fields-are-most-likely-to-quit-their-jobs.html

Recruiter Tenure at a Glance

Nationally,

66% quit

in two years or less.²

At Concero,

68% stay

for over two years.

² www.zipia.com/recruiter-jobs/demographics/

55%

of Concero employees have been around for over 5 years.

Jay Murchison
10 Years

Patrick Ruzicka
10 Years

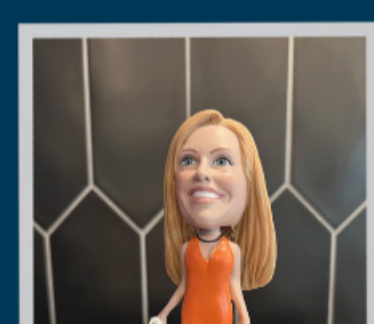

Ben Kandlbinder
10 Years

Keith Quigley
10 Years

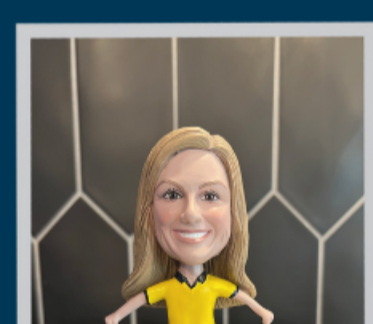

Blair Turley
9 Years

Amy Drozda
8 Years

Allyson Donovan
8 Years

Michelle Restovich
8 Years

Danielle Goldsmith
7 Years

Jared Greenlee
7 Years

Aaron Schwander
7 Years

Patrick Shuff
6 Years

Stephanie Grimmer
6 Years

Madeleine Kusmitch
5 Years

HIGHLY DEDICATED RECRUITERS

=

LONG-TERM HIRING RESULTS

Step 1

Build strong connections within our team.

Step 2

Dig deep into our client and consultant goals.

Step 3

Connect good humans to great work.

Step 4

Endlessly repeat.

Driven by Familiar Faces Who Understand Your Every Need